CANNOT FORGET
WHAT THE HANDS HAVE LEARNED™

Level 1 — Two Day Workshop

- This workshop highlights basic anatomy and physiology using the Anatomy in Clay™ manikins. You will gain experience and confidence in forming muscles and internal organs out of clay and learn how to teach these concepts to your students.
- Starla will also share many tips and tricks to make difficult anatomy and physiology topics easier for students to understand.

Level 2 — One Day Workshop

- In this workshop teachers will experience and acquire teaching strategies that utilize a hands-on approach to the interrelationship of systems in the human body and pathology applications.
- Starla will present case studies of a disease or specific trauma and then help you build the disorder on the manikin.

- Capacity is limited to 30 participants per workshop.
- Registrations will be accepted in the order received. A waiting list will be available.

✓ Registration fees will not be refunded. You may send a substitute in your place.

- Registration deadline:

Oct. 31, 2008

- Registration form is available at:
